FAU

DHTRAININGDAY
ON FRIDAY, 22 NOVEMBER 2024

The Department of Digital Humanities and Social Studies (DHSS) invites you to its first Digital Humanities Training Day.

This is an opportunity for postgrad students, early-career researchers, and scholars from within and outside the humanities to gain insights into current research in Digital Humanities (DH).

On Friday, 22 November 2024
from 9.15am to 6.45pm

Werner-von-Siemens-Straße 61
Eingang Ost | Room 3.17
91052 Erlangen

with SPECIAL GUESTS

Christof Schöch (University of Trier),
Gavin Brookes (Lancaster University) and
James Tauber (Digital Tolkien Project)

For further information, registration and the full schedule please check go.fau.de/1bcaf

DHTRAININGDAY
ON FRIDAY, 22 NOVEMBER 2024

The focus of the day will be on textual data, fictional texts, and real-world contexts. The event will feature talks by three invited guest speakers along with presentations from the DHSS team.

09.15 AM	Welcome
09.30 AM	Michaela Mahlberg – Storytelling in DH: Fiction and the Real World
10.15 AM	James Tauber – The Digital Tolkien Project
11.00 AM	Anastasia Glawion – Middle-earth Fanfiction: Interpretive Communities on a German-speaking Fanfiction Website
11.45 AM	COFFEE BREAK
12.15 PM	Christof Schöch – Linked Open Data for Literary History
1.00 PM	Sabine Lang – Uncovering the History of Objects: Image Search in Auction Catalogues to Aid Provenance Research
1.45 PM	LUNCH BREAK[1]
3.15 PM	Gavin Brookes – Corpus Linguistics, Generative AI, and Discourses of Dementia
4.00 PM	Marianna Gracheva – Creative Nonfiction: The Language of 'True Stories Well Told'
4.45 PM	COFFEE BREAK
5.15 PM	Nathan Dykes & Alexander Piperski – The RC21 Project: Methods and Tools for Concordance Reading
6.00 PM	Dominik Kremer & Andreas Wagner – Recording Active Storytelling on Site: Current Use Cases of the App SpaceLog (Includes Hands-on)

[1] Use the time to collect multi-modal data of your individual Erlangen experience with SpaceLog! Explore and discuss geovisualisations of the data with us as part of the talk at 06:00 PM!